FALKRONA

Your brand’s marketing agent

A marketing assistant for small business owners who need professional, consistent social content.

Falkrona turns a brand brief and product photos into a weekly plan with finished designs, then publishes approved Facebook posts on schedule.

CREATED BY A GRAPHIC DESIGNER

Design principles built into a workflow a busy owner can use.

Actual Falkrona-generated artwork

Arabic and English designs
Facebook publishing in the current version

FALKRONA

THE SME PROBLEM

Small brands have AI tools, but lack design direction

As a graphic designer, I saw SMEs use Gemini or GPT without design principles or a consistent brand identity. Their posts often looked cheap or disconnected.

The owner still carries the work of turning images into useful marketing.

01

A harder brand to recognize

Changing colors, fonts and layouts make each post feel like a different business.

02

Time taken from the business

The owner repeatedly writes prompts, fixes designs and manages posting.

03

Unclear product messages

Weak hierarchy distracts from the product, the offer and the next customer action.

Small brands whose owners also run the marketing

Initial focus

Product-based SMEs that need social content every week and have limited design support.

Food and drink brands
Beauty and skincare businesses
Independent retail and online shops

The owner knows the product.
Falkrona organizes the creative work.

Example: a small juice brand

The owner supplies the logo, product photo and audience details once.

Each week, they review ready designs and captions, adjust dates, and approve the plan.

Marketing becomes a weekly review task inside one workspace.

Consistent branding with a new idea for each post

Brand knowledge that carries forward

A saved brief guides the audience, palette, typography, logo treatment and CTA placement.

Creative variety within that identity

Gemini develops different concepts. Product photos define the product, rather than the whole design.

ACTUAL TEPES OUTPUTS

Product-focused concept

Shared moment concept

Shared colors, type and CTA treatment. Different scenes and messages.

Brand setup once. One approval for the week.

01 Describe the brand

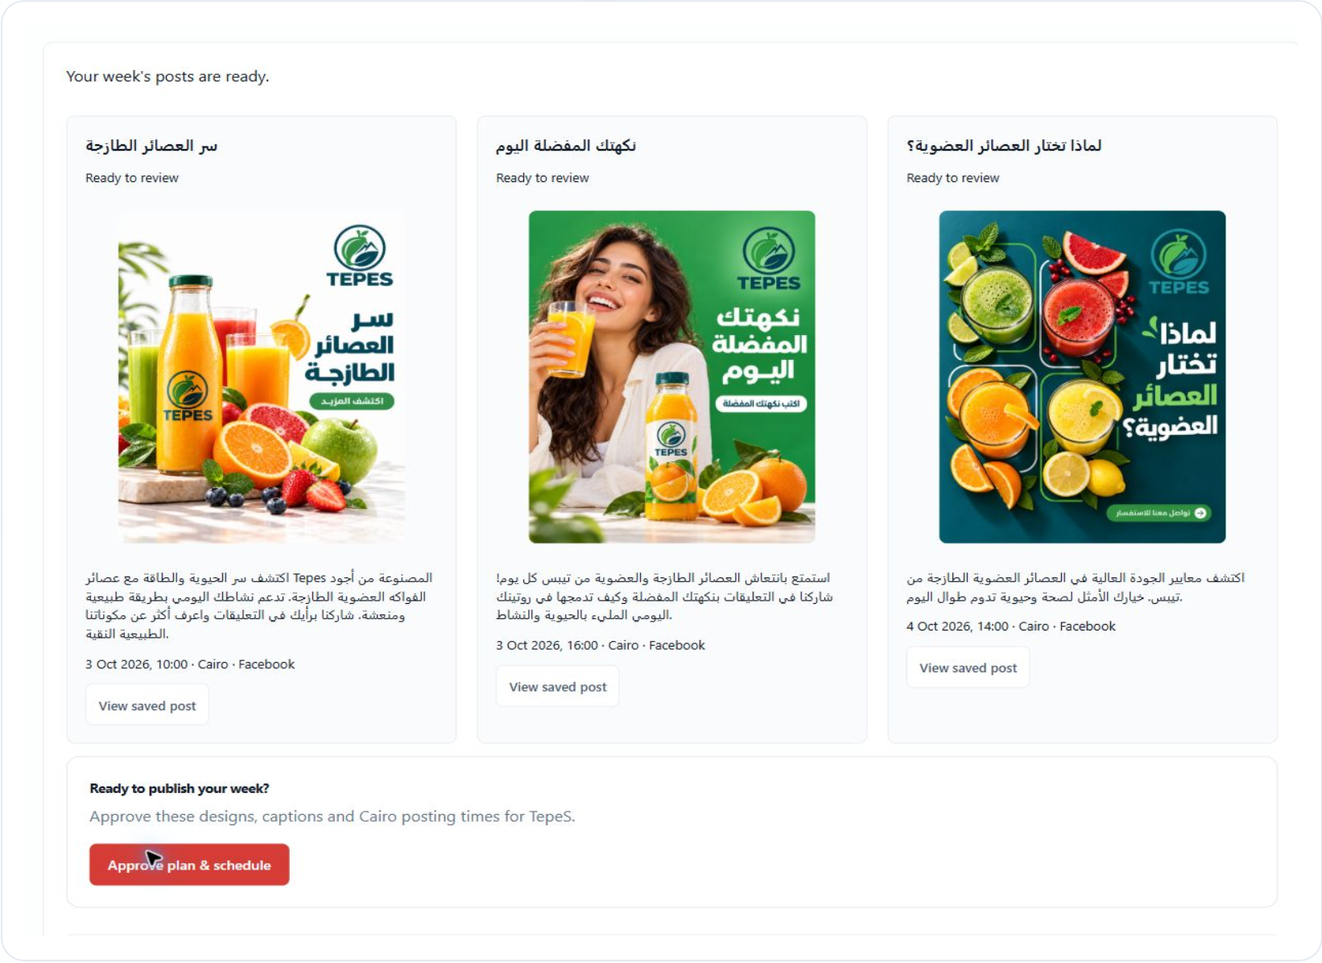

Complete a short survey. Add the logo and product photo, with an optional style reference.

02 Draft the week

Choose Arabic or English. Falkrona prepares the plan, finished designs and captions.

03 Review and approve

Change a design or date if needed. Approve the whole plan for scheduled Facebook posting.

Actual finished plan with one approval action

Less coordination, with a more recognizable brand

Falkrona connects creative work to the owner’s weekly business routine.

Business benefit	How Falkrona supports it	Pilot measure
Owner time	Reuses the brief and prepares a complete week	Time spent to approve a week
Brand recognition	Keeps colors, type, logo and CTA rules consistent	Consistency ratings and revisions
Regular visibility	Schedules the whole approved plan	Planned posts published on time
Better decisions	Collects post engagement in weekly reports	Actions taken from report insights

Intended benefits. Time savings and business outcomes still need SME pilot data.

The agent handles the work behind the weekly plan

Uploaded product photo

New generated design

The product stays recognizable inside a different creative concept.

Campaign decisions

Gemini through Hermes chooses post purposes, creative concepts and captions from the brand brief.

Finished creative work

The helper sends prompts and assets to ChatGPT, then returns images to the correct saved posts.

Scheduled execution

Falkrona saves progress and workers publish the approved plan at its scheduled times.

Feedback for the owner

Workers collect engagement for weekly reports when Page permissions and post history allow it.

FALKRONA

THE IDEAL EXPERIENCE

Image generation directly inside Falkrona

Gemini prepares the detailed prompt. An OpenAI or Gemini image-generation API returns the artwork directly to the post.

Fewer setup steps for owners.
A more reliable path to adoption.

Current prototype

A browser helper transfers prompts and assets to a signed-in ChatGPT account and brings the design back.

It requires extension setup and depends on the image website's current controls.

Planned product experience

A direct image API removes the extension and lets Falkrona manage generation within the campaign.

Next: API integration and SME pilots.
Instagram remains a later integration.

A service for a recurring weekly business need

Proposed business model

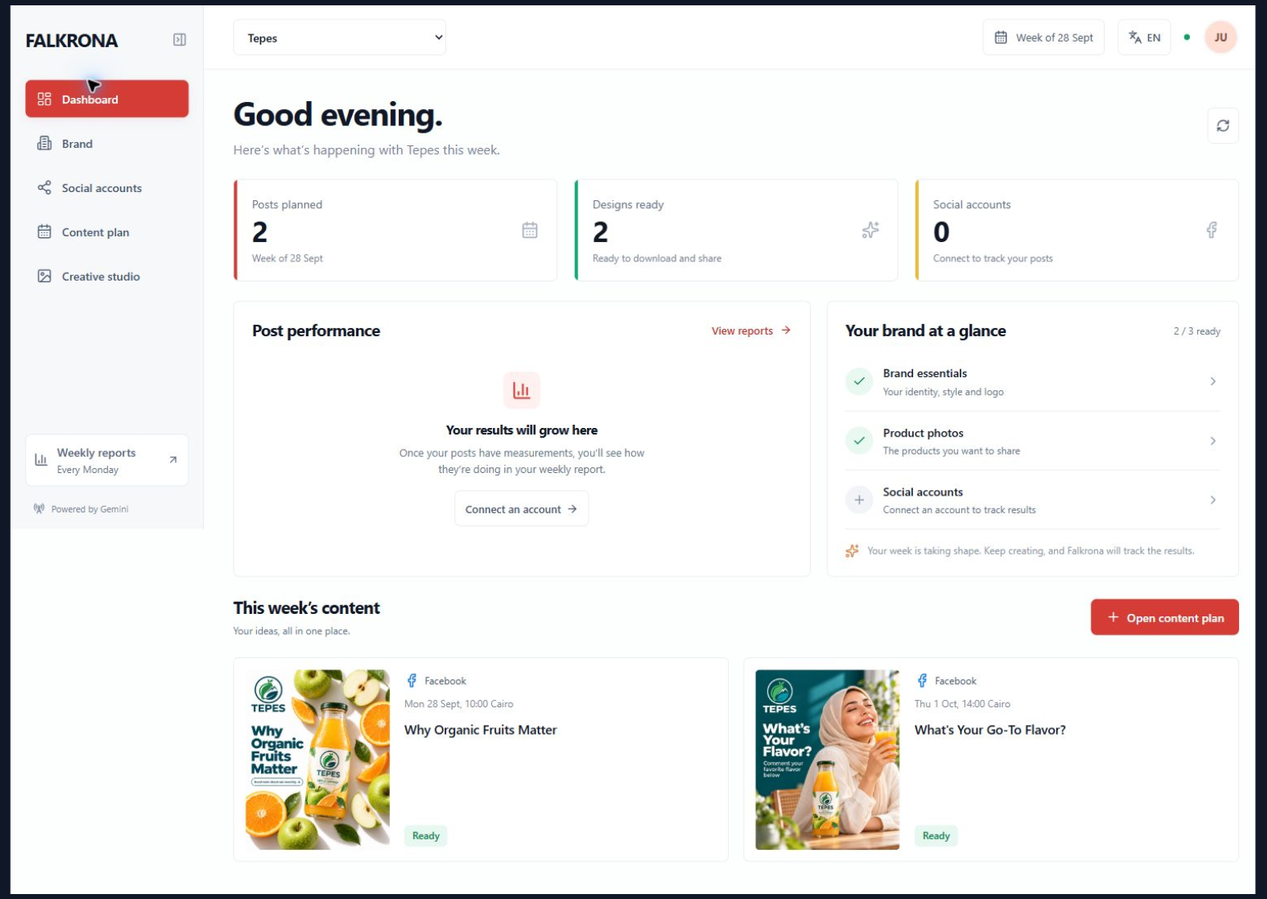

A subscription per brand for weekly content creation, approved scheduling and reporting.

Validation before pricing

Pilot with SMEs to measure owner time, design quality and reliable publishing. Test willingness to pay against model and delivery costs.

github.com/dark0danger/Falkrona

Working prototype with a full setup guide

The aim: make consistent marketing easier to sustain.